

Protecting Your Future

Put more than 175 years of combined experience to work for you.

From Domestic Relations to Civil Litigation to Real Estate, the attorneys at Rosenfeld Hafron Shapiro & Farmer have superior skills to resolve your matter in the best possible way.

In our domestic relations division under the supervision of Leading Lawyers Howard Rosenfeld and Kathryn Farmer, we understand that sensitive and complex matters in divorce including valuation and division of assets, child custody, spousal and child support, visitation rights, prenuptial agreements, and all other aspects of family law must be resolved in a way that secures the rights of our clients and their children.

In our civil litigation department, which includes personal injury, medical malpractice and workers' compensation, we have a highly experienced litigation team. We work to obtain out-of-court settlements, but we have the resources and experience to litigate whenever necessary.

In our real estate department, our specialists handle residential, commercial, and industrial transactions with the goal of ensuring a smooth transition during what can be a perplexing time.

In any of the above matters, we represent clients during trials, hearings, arbitrations, and mediations. We handle litigation in all courts to help regardless of what type of action is involved. Our attorneys will be there for you throughout every step of the process—from the investigation to settlement and trial if necessary.

Established in 1967, Rosenfeld Hafron Shapiro & Farmer is committed to providing superior legal representation to clients throughout Illinois.
